PRODUCT REVIEW

Promaster Digital HGX Filters

If you own a camera that can accept interchangeable lenses, you know just how significant your investment in additional lenses can be. One easy way to protect your investment is with the use of a screw-on UV filter that is sized specifically for your lens. A UV filter is optically clear and will not degrade your image, but it will protect the front element of your expensive lens from dings, scratches and fingerprints.

This past month I had the opportunity to test out a new line of photography filters from Promaster. What makes these new Digital HGX filters unique is their construction. They are made of hardened optical glass to resist scratching, etching and chipping. They are also multi-coated, which means they will significantly reduce internal reflections that can decrease image contrast. The feature I found most impressive about HGX series is a coating that Promaster calls Repellamax. The coating helps repel moisture, fingerprints and dust. With the HGX filter attached to my Canon 17-40mm lens, I intentionally pressed my fingerprint onto the surface to test the coating, and with just a swipe of my micro fiber cloth, the fingerprint was gone. With my other filters, it normally requires a spray or two of lens cleaner to completely remove an oily fingerprint. The Repellamax coating on the HGX filters certainly make it a lot easier to keep the front element of your lens clean.

Currently, Promaster offers the Digital HGX filter in three styles- UV, Protection and Circular Polarizer. The filters are available in sizes 52mm through 82mm.

RIDGEWOOD CAMERA CLUB'S 28TH INTERNATIONAL

Ghick Chakarian

The Ridgewood Camera Club would like to invite all NJFCC clubs to participate in a "Best New Jersey Club Entry. Six members, at least, must enter. More is fine. I will pick the best six of a club's entry, if more than six.

Since there is a $2.00 discount for each participating entrant, Pay Pal cannot be used. Each individual must pay the $6.00 entry fee by check. Or a club might allow its members to group their checks or send a single check for the club, list of members enclosed.

A listing of all entering members must be sent to me. I'll pick out the best six, if more than six. Checks should go to Marie. Our addresses below.

With at least five clubs entering, we will offer a first place plaque, a second place plaque and a third place HM ribbon.

Ridgewood Camera Club is not participating. This is the CPID section only.

The website for the International is in place. The closing date is January 19, 2011. No entries accepted after that date. Judging day is January 29, 2011. Reports go out by February 6, 2011.

Go to our website <ridgewoodcameraclub.org> click on International for entering information and form.

Questions, come to me. chick440@optonline.net
